A supplementary catalogue of these books follows this report.

The monthly average of books loaned as appears by the report of the librarian, has been 226.83, and a total number for the year of 2,722—twelve less than for the preceding year.

The annual record of the number of library cards issued and books loaned since the library was opened, or for eleven years and eight months, is as follows:

	Cards.	Books.
To Feb. 15, 1895. 8 months,	153	1,452

To Feb. 15, 1906.	31	2,722
	<hr/> 623	<hr/> 27,537

The number of cards in use the past year was 226, or about $36\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. of the total number issued since the library was opened.

The catalogue, published Jan. 1, 1895, and the supplementary catalogue, published January, 1905, may be procured of the librarian.

Citizens and other friends of the library have generously continued to furnish magazines, and other publications, which have been extensively read and are always appreciated by patrons of the library.

Saturday Evening Post, Literary Digest and Medical Times, Dr. Alfred Kimball Hills. The New Age, Kimball Webster. McClure's Magazine, Mrs. Kimball Webster. Woman's Home Companion, Mrs. George G. Andrews, The Youth's Companion, Miss Helen Cummings.

The trustees feel very grateful to all those friends for their thoughtful kindness and generosity in furnishing these very useful periodicals at their own cost and expense.

Books given the library the past year include three by Hermon F. Dane of Nashua, all religious books.

Mrs. Pearl T. Thomas donated "The Workers," and Miss Mary R. Thomas contributed a poetical work, of which she is the author, "Nature Study in the Poets."

Also Bancroft's History of the United States, in 10 volumes, was given by Kimball Webster.

Owing to the many contributions of local interest that have been added to our scrapbook, which have been mentioned in these reports for the past four years, it is becoming to be quite a feature of interest to the library.

This may be very rapidly increased if the citizens will furnish liberally to the librarian, such items of a local historical value, that may hereafter be of interest.

After a most faithful and conscientious service as librarian, since September, 1903, a period of two years and five months, Mrs. Ina V. (Martin) Hammond, owing to her removal from this town, was obliged to tender her resignation, which was accepted by the trustees, and took effect at the end of the library year, Feb. 15.

The trustees have filled the office of librarian made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Hammond, by the election of Mrs. Eliza B. Leslie, to that position.

SCHOOL REPORT.

SUPERVISION.

At the last meeting of the district a vote was passed rescinding a vote whereby the School Board was authorized to unite with one or more town districts to form a supervisory district for the purpose of employing a superintendent of the public schools. The law which allows a district to take such action is to be found in Chapter 81, Session Laws of 1901, and is as follows: "Any town or special district which has united, or may hereafter unite, with any other town or towns, district or districts, to form a supervisory district as provided by Chapter 77 of the Laws of 1899, may at any annual school district meeting, by vote, rescind such action, and thereupon shall at the end of the school year or at the expiration of the period for which such supervisory district may then already have contracted for the services of a superintendent, cease to be a part of such supervisory district."

At the time of the above action the school district of Hudson was a part of the supervisory district with the school district of Salem, N. H., and Mr. Harry A. Brown was in the employ of the above named supervisory district, and the period for which he had been employed did not end until the close of the Spring Term of our schools. His services were therefore continued until the close of the period for which he had been engaged.

During the Fall and Winter Terms our schools were without supervision.

An article has been inserted in the school warrant for the present year that the matter of supervision of our schools may be further considered.

REPAIRS.

The special repairs voted and provided for the Webster Building at the last meeting of the district were made during the summer months, and the sanitary condition of that building assured, it is believed, for years to come.

A larger out-lay was found necessary than was at first estimated by the contractors, but the desire that the building should be sanitary and the work durable influenced your board to take the action, believing it was for the best interest of the district so to do.

A rear entrance was also provided at the Webster Building which will be of value in case of fire, and furnish easy access to the play ground of the children.

A new fence was erected on the northerly side of the Smith school lot.

It also seemed to your board for the best interest of the district that the insurance renewed on the buildings should be for the five year period on account of obtaining a lower rate.

Your attention is called to the article of the school warrant relating to the sale of the unused school buildings. These buildings are fast going to destruction and your board feel that it is not good business policy for the district to retain them, and keep them in repair. We therefore recommend the sale of the same.

TEACHERS.

The Spring Term was successfully taught at the Webster School by Miss Bertha M. Cole, Miss Lettie V. Shepherd, Miss Marian J. Walch, and Miss Lilla A. Deering; at the Smith School by Miss Sadie Hamblett and Miss Theda A.

Taylor; at the No. 9 School by Miss Sadie Clancy; and at the No. 1 School by Mrs. Orinda A. Perham.

The resignations of Miss Cole and Miss Shepherd of the Webster School and Miss Hamblett and Miss Taylor of the Smith School at the close of the Spring Term lead your board to transfer Miss Deering from the Webster School to the Smith School and Miss Clancy from the No. 9 School to the primary room at the Webster School.

The positions then remaining vacant were filled by Mr. Basil Perkins and Miss Nina Cheney at the Webster School and by Miss Kimball at the Smith School and by Miss Helen Spaulding at the No. 9 School. Miss Spaulding resigned her position before the close of the Fall Term and the balance of the year in the No. 9 School was taught by Miss Hodges of Boston, Mass.

Your board is well satisfied that each teacher in the employ of the district during the year has tried to give faithful service.

In a few instances your board has employed teachers without normal school training. Although we believe this an experiment not hereafter to be followed as a precedent yet we believe a devoted child-loving teacher, without normal training, is preferable to normal trained teacher, with no natural devotion to his or her work.

COURSES OF STUDY.

What shall be taught in our schools? What is to be the future policy of the district? All want to see the schools second to none in the State. Nothing that is good is too good for the children. The buildings have been erected, the money is paid each year. The so called scientific teaching may not be followed by best results for a large number of the children who attend our common schools. It is important that sufficient time is given to efficient instruction in the primary and essential constituents for a good education, and that there shall be no neglect of these essential branches in order to devote time to branches that should not engross a disproportionate share of attention. On the other hand these essential branches must not be taught in such a way as to destroy interest. The natural spontaneous activities of the child should be enlisted. The skillful teacher is the one not forgetful of the fundamentals of reading, writing, arithmetic, and composition, when instructing in any other branch of the curriculum. The correlation of studies to meet the demands of all the pupils of a country school is no small task, and the certainty that the courses selected will be followed properly by teachers having had varied experiences and training demands watchful attention. Fads and fancies should not be introduced with each new teacher.

WRITING.

A few years since vertical writing was introduced in our schools as was done in most of the schools of New England. Experience has demonstrated that vertical writing, though legible, is apt to be slow and wanting in individuality, in the nature of printing, and objectionable from a business point of view. Extreme slant writing tends to angularity and illegibility. Your board has been considering the introduction of some medial system with neither an extreme slant nor a vertical script, yet retaining the simplicity and the full round open style of the best vertical forms.

MUSIC TEACHER'S REPORT.

To the Members of the School Board:

GENTLEMEN: I respectfully submit the following report of the department of music in your schools.

One way in which a good general taste in music may be cultivated, is thorough the education of the public school children.

Therefore the best material procurable is desired for the daily lessons. One change has been made in the music readers during the past year.

The New First Reader of the Educational Music Course being substituted for the book formerly used. Most of the teachers are unable to have a music period long enough to divide advantageously between two classes, so wherever practicable it has seemed advisable to have all the children in rooms where there are not more than two grades do the same work in music, the lessons being arranged so that a part of each shall be adapted to the needs of each grade.

The first and second grades which are together at the Webster school, have been taught many pleasing rote songs, and a series of progressive sight singing exercises produced upon the black board have been faithfully studied.

This work is done preparatory to the use of books which are introduced in the third grade.

The children in the third and fourth grades are also together in this school, and have taken the same work. The majority in either grade being able to read well in several keys.

These pupils, and also the most advanced class in the same building have been under the daily instruction of Miss Walch, and as so much depends upon the daily teacher in this work, I think we owe to her principally the gratifying advancement made by these classes during the fall and winter terms.

The fifth and sixth grades were not so well prepared to do the same work, as some are much more proficient than others. However as there was time for only one class, we were obliged to do our best under unfavorable conditions.

In the district schools there are so few pupils that since beginning the study of two-part music, some have been reluctant to sing.

The teachers in both these schools have given their pupils all possible help, and used every means to inspire confidence, with encouraging results.

At the Smith school the primary children have shown much interest, and made good progress, and Miss Kimball, though having three grades in her room, has often devoted half an hour a day to music, and in this line of work she has been eminently successful, her pupils being among the brightest, and most enthusiastic in town. Before closing I wish to thank the teachers, and all who have given encouragement and help in this work.

MILLIE W. WESTON,
Director of Music.
